FROM THE PASTOR

My Dear Parishioners,

Praised be Jesus Christ! This past week, the Church in the United States celebrated Vocation Awareness Week: a week set aside for the faithful to pray for a culture of vocations to priesthood, diaconate and consecrated life. Next week, we welcome to our parish Mr. John deGuzman, a seminarian from St. Charles Seminary, who will speak at all the Masses. So for this week, I want to share some thoughts regarding vocations to the priesthood.

Whenever the topic of priestly vocations arises, there is often attached to it talk about the need for more priests. Attached to that is often a negative spirit of desperation, i.e. we have so few priests, we need more. While it is true we do need more priests, I'd suggest that we need to renounce quickly any negative spirit attached to that need. Our prayer for more priests should never be out of desperation but should flow out of great confidence in the God who calls men even today to be His priests. Our prayer should be one of great hope and excitement and should sound like this: Lord, how wonderful it would be if you called one of our parishioners to be a priest! Lord, how wonderful it would be if you called one of my sons to be a priest! Lord, how wonderful it would be if you called me to be a priest! If that's not the sound of our prayer for more priests, then something is wrong.

In May of 2005, I received a frightening call from Cardinal Rigali which resulted in my becoming Vocation Director of the Archdiocese. It was frightening because it involved my first change of assignment as a priest and in becoming the vocation director, I put an inordinate amount of pressure on myself to "get more priests." The negative spirits of "need, desperation and anxiety" were strongly at work in me. After a few years in that work, I realized what I did not know then and I share the following with you:

1) Despite all that we may see or think, God the Father still calls men to follow Him. It's true! God is calling. I cannot tell you how often I would start talking to young men about the priesthood and how many of them shared with me experiences of God's call. Now, not all of them became priests, but without me even suggesting it, the thought, the call and at times even the desire for the priesthood were there. In my five years as Vocation Director, I was deeply honored to lead well over 60 plus men to the seminary, each of whom God had called, some of whom are priests today.

2) Where there is VISIBLE WITNESS, Vocations come forth. There are dioceses and religious orders that are busting at the seams with vocations. But only where there is visible witness. One of the interesting trends that I found in the Archdiocese was wherever there was one seminarian, another one was never far away. Parishes that had one young man studying to be a priest, usually had a second young man doing the same. Point being, visible, happy witness attracts. And we need that witness.

3) Finally, there is no greater joy in life than knowing one's vocation and saying "yes" to that call. Whether it's marriage, religious life, priesthood or single life, to embrace our vocation fully is where our peace is found.

Join me in praying with confidence and hope that every member of our parish may do just that. Which means that we will have priests, religious, husbands and wives coming from our parish. And we will have peace.

Peace,

Fr. Rogers

"End of Life Issues: A Catholic Perspective"

At one time or another all of us are confronted with end of life concerns either for ourselves or loved ones. The medical and ethical issues can be a source of confusion and anxiety as we try to make the "right" decisions. Our Catholic faith provides clarity and reassurance on these matters. On Tuesday, November 14, at 9:00AM, in the Assumption BVM Church (lower level) Deacon Alfred J. Mauriello, II, M.D. will provide a power point presentation on the Church's teachings. There will be a handout as well as ample time for discussion and an opportunity for questions on end of life and other medical/ethical issues. Refreshments will be served.

FAITH FORMATION

An Evening of Reflection

"Advent by Candlelight"

Thursday, December 7, 2017

7:00-9:00PM in the Church Basement

Dear Women,

Before you know it, we will be seeing the Christmas decorations in the stores. We will be making our list and checking it twice-the cards, the decorating, the shopping, the baking, the wrapping, the "Holiday" merry making. But how does the birth of the Christ child fit into all this? "Advent by Candlelight" is a beautiful evening that brings women together to focus on the true meaning of this Blessed Season.

When you arrive you find the room filled with tables each uniquely set and decorated by the table hostess. These ladies will invite you as a personal guest and make you feel welcomed and will share with you a moment of faith.

During the evening you will hear a presentation by Marie Joseph, executive director of Legacy of Life Foundation, Inc. You will share refreshments and dessert with friends and enjoy a festive spirit!

Sign up to be a Table Host. As a table host you will host 7 of your family and friends for coffee, tea and dessert. You will send the invitations. You will come early and decorate your table as you wish with Nativity sets, fine china or paper products; however you like! The only requirement is that your table will have four advent candles on it. These candles will create the peaceful setting for the evening. You will bring desserts and tea flavors and we'll provide the coffee and hot water. Enjoy serving your guests as if they were in your home. Consider this evening your Advent gift to them. Perhaps you will send them home with a prayerful favor. Allow your creativity to set a beautiful place where our hearts will make room for our Lord.

Sign up to be a hostess. Contact the parish office at 610-444-4364 by Friday, December 1, 2017. 0236
