RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

The Red Cross is in need of additional donor sites due to the virus. Several corporate clients are still working from home. They have asked us to host two additional blood drives. Our next drive is scheduled for Friday, November 6 and then another one on Friday, November 27.

You can sign up to donate by going to RedCrossBlood.org and enter sponsor code: stpatrickks to schedule your appointment. Sign up is also available on our website:

www.stpatrickkennettsquare.org

Thank you so much for your continued support to the Red Cross.

FOUR PRINCIPLES FOR CATHOLICS DURING ELECTION SEASON BY BISHOP ROBERT BARRON, OCTOBER 6, 2020

Every four years, Catholics face an intense dilemma in regard to the vote. There are ardently Catholic Democrats who wonder how their co-religionists could possibly choose a Republican candidate, and there are ardently Catholic Republicans who express precisely the opposite opinion. And both sides, typically, look with eagerness to their bishops and priests to resolve the tension. Each presidential election cycle, the Church endeavors to clarify the issue, usually to the satisfaction of very few. However, under the rubric of "once more unto the breach, dear friends," let me try to provide some direction by articulating four basic principles.

First, Catholic social teaching clearly goes beyond the split between Republican and Democrat, between liberal and conservative, and therefore corresponds perfectly with neither political camp. Anyone who says that either of our political parties perfectly, or even adequately, represents Catholic social thought is simply misinformed. Broadly speaking, the Democratic Party advocates a number of themes and principles reverenced by the Catholic tradition: concern for the underprivileged, for the migrant and refugee, and for the environment, as well as opposition to capital punishment and to all forms of racism. And again, broadly speaking, the Republican Party sides with Catholic teaching in a number of ways: opposition to abortion and euthanasia, defense of the traditional family, advocacy for conscience protection and freedom of religion. Which of the two parties is more "Catholic?" It seems to me impossible to adjudicate the question in the abstract.

Are we left, therefore, simply in a lurch? Not quite, and this leads to the second principle I would like to explicate: among the various values mentioned, a priority must be given to the defense of human life, since life is the most fundamental good of all, the one without which the other goods wouldn't obtain. Therefore, in the political calculus of a Catholic, opposition to abortion, euthanasia, and capital punishment should take pride of place. Now, just to keep things complicated, Republicans are relatively right in regard to the first two and Democrats in regard to the last one, though, to be sure, the number of those threatened by abortion and euthanasia is far greater than the number of those under threat of capital punishment. Sometimes people will say that all lives are equally sacred, but in this context, that observation is something of a red herring. For the relevant question is not which lives are more sacred—those of the unborn, the elderly, the poor, the migrant—but which lives are more direly and directly threatened.

And this leads to a third principle: a Catholic may never vote for a candidate because that candidate supports a morally repugnant position, only despite that support and only because of balancing considerations. Thus, for example, a Catholic in good conscience could never say that she will vote for Joe Biden because the Democrat is pro-choice, and by the same token, a Catholic in good conscience could never say that he will vote for Donald Trump because the Republican is for capital punishment. Each would have to say some version of "despite his unacceptable position, I will vote for him because, in prudence, I have determined that other commitments of his and/or his own character counter-balances his objectionable opinion." Does this lead us into somewhat murky waters? Frankly, yes, but that's necessarily the case when we're dealing not with matters of principle but matters of prudence.

And this last statement conduces to my fourth and final proposition: Catholics ought never to disagree in regard to moral principles, but they can indeed legitimately disagree about the best means to instantiate those principles. So, for example, I think that every Catholic in America ought to embrace the political ideals that I identified above, some more characteristic of the left and others of the right. Every Catholic ought to be for protecting the environment, serving the poor, defending the traditional family, battling social injustice, advocating for religious liberty and freedom of conscience, etc. But not every Catholic is obliged to subscribe to the same means of attaining those ends. Liberal and conservative Catholics can disagree about the Paris Climate Accords, the legitimacy of off-shore drilling, the advisability of reforming our health-care system, changes to our tax laws, the level of the minimum wage, the best policy in regard to Wall Street regulation, etc., etc. Those latter issues are open to legitimate debate and are matters for prudential judgment.

Perhaps I might, in closing, not so much propose a fifth principle, as deliver myself of a c*ri de coeur:* Vote! Some Catholics are tempted—and I will admit to feeling the tug of this temptation—that because things are so complicated politically for those who advocate Catholic social teaching, it is best to say, "a plague on both your houses," and keep to the sidelines. But this is not a tenable position. In the Lord's Prayer, we petition, "Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." The Gospel message does indeed draw us ultimately to eternal life on high with the Lord, but it also has real-world implications here below. If we Catholics don't involve ourselves in the political process, as messy as that often is, we permit Catholic social teaching to remain a set of harmless abstractions. 236

Music for October 17/18, 2020
29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Entrance Antiphon (Psalm 17): To you I call; for you will surely heed me, O God; turn your ear to me; hear my words. Guard me as the apple of your eye; in the shadow of your wings protect me.

Entrance Hymn: Sing a New Song (Dan Schutte)

Refrain: Sing a new song unto the Lord
Let your song be sung from mountains high
Sing a new song unto the Lord
Singing 'alleluia.

1. Shout with gladness! Dance for joy!
O come before the Lord
And play for God on glad tambourines
And let your trumpet sound. (Refrain)

2. Rise, O children, from your sleep
Your Savior now has come
He has turned your sorrow to joy
And filled your soul with song. (Refrain)

3. Glad my soul for I have seen the glory of the Lord.
The trumpet sounds; the dead shall be raised.
I know my Savior lives. (Refrain)

Responsorial Psalm 96: Give the Lord glory and honor.

Communion Hymn: Bread of Angels

Bread of angels, we receive you; with us now abide.
Precious Jesus, manna of ages, with us now reside.
Panis angelicus fit panis hominum
Dat panis caelicus figuris terminum.

Cup of Mercy overflowing, fill us with your grace;
Wine of passion, O Son begotten, we flee to your embrace.
Ores mirabilis manducat Dominum,
Pauper, Pauper, servus, et humilis.

Word incarnate, dwell within us; pierce our hardened hearts.
Tender Jesus, Love so gentle, never let us part.
Te, trina Deitas unaque, poscimus,
Sic nos tu visita, sicut te colimus.

Though unworthy, we receive you, sacrament divine.
Bread of angels, accept our praises, let your glory shine!
Per tuas semitas duc nos quo tendimus,
Lucem, Ad lucem quam inhabitas.

Communion Antiphon (Psalm 33): Behold, the eyes of the Lord are on those who fear him, who hope in his merciful love, to rescue their souls from death, to keep them alive in famine.

Recessional Hymn: On Eagle's Wings (Joncas)

1. You who dwell in the shelter of the Lord, who abide in his shadow for life,
Say to the Lord: "My refuge, my rock in whom I trust!"

Refrain: And he will raise you up on eagle's wings, bear you on the breath of dawn,
Make you to shine like the sun, and hold you in the palm of his hand.

2. The snare of the fowler will never capture you, and famine will bring you no fear;
Under his wings your refuge, his faithfulness your shield. (Refrain)

3. You need not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day;
Though thousands fall about you, near you it shall not come. (Refrain)

4. For to his angels he's given a command to guard you in all of your ways;
Upon their hands they will bear you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone. (Refrain)

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.

Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

PREP

Parish Religious Education Program

This past week we celebrated the beautiful feast of Our Lady of Fatima. She is a model for all of us to follow in our journey of faith. Next week our parish community will have the opportunity to witness the celebration of Confirmation with Bishop John J. McIntyre. May the Mother of Jesus and the Holy Spirit be with all of these boys and girls.

Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Breathe into me, Holy Spirit, that my thoughts may all be HOLY, move in me, Holy Spirit, that my work, too, may be HOLY, attract my heart, Holy Spirit, that I may love only what is HOLY…

"Protect me, Holy Spirit, that I may always be HOLY."

St. Augustine

The Knights of Columbus annual Change for Life campaign is now underway. This worthy cause helps to rise funds of which 100% of all proceeds are distributed to pro-life charities and causes. Thank you to all who have contributed in the past and we hope for your participation again this year. In light of the current situation with coronavirus, there are several ways that you can contribute to this worthy cause.

- Pick up a sanitized baby bottle found in the Church vestibule and the Parish Office and then return the bottle with your donation (cash, change, or check payable to Knights of Columbus) in the return basket by November 31.
- Make a donation directly online by visiting the Parish Website or simply place your cell phone camera over the QR code found below to be automatically directed to our online donation link. This QR code is also found on signs and containers found in the Church vestibule and Parish Office. Online donations will be accepted through the end of December.

Please help support pro-life causes with your financial support during this campaign.

GUIDELINES FOR ATTENDING MASS IN THE GREEN PHASE

At all Masses, provide and wear a face covering. Exceptions are "children younger than 2 years old, anyone who has trouble breathing and anyone who is incapacitated or unable to remove the cloth face covering without assistance." (CDC Guidelines) Please provide your own worship materials as missalettes will not be available. You are encouraged to take a Church Bulletin when entering Church as it will have the Hymns and Responsorial Psalm to follow the Celebration of Mass. Hand sanitizers will be available in the back of Church; it is recommended that you bring your own.

After exiting your car, please maintain social distancing as you walk on Church grounds. Before entering the Church, please put on your face covering and ensure that it covers both your nose and mouth. Ushers/Greeters will be present at all Masses who can answer any questions you may have regarding returning to Church and can assist you with any seating needs. Holy water fonts remain empty.

Pews will be marked off to allow for some measure of social distancing. Please space yourselves appropriately.

During Mass a collection will be taken up during the Offertory as usual with long-handled baskets. The procession with the Gifts during the Offertory is omitted. There will be no Sign of Peace and the Precious Blood will not be distributed.

Priests/Deacons may or may not wear a mask while distributing Communion. Sanitizer remains nearby if needed. The faithful are encouraged to receive the Body of Christ in the hand. For those wishing to receive on the tongue, the Priest/Deacon/EM will need to sanitize after each communion. Please be mindful of others. Those who desire to receive Communion, exit your pew towards the side aisle while maintaining social distancing in the Communion line. At the first pew, remove one side of your face covering. When the person in front of you has received Communion, proceed to Communion Minister to receive the Body of Christ. Reposition your mask and return to your pew via the center aisle while allowing for social distancing. At the conclusion of Mass, pews will exit through the center aisle one at a time from back to front. Please wait for the Usher's guidance. 236
